Groups in Moodle

- Groups in Moodle
- How do I set up areas for student collaboration in Moodle? — Lots of information on how to set up activities which students can use to collaborate with one another
- How To create groups and groupings — This tutorial shows you how to group students together in Moodle in order to set them different tasks, assignments and activities.
- How to create a forum for groups — A forum can be created very simply but you can also create a forum in which particular groups of students can work together
- How to use the Signup Sheet Tool — The Signup Sheet tool creates an online equivalent of a paper sign up sheet - use for any student signup.
- How to allow students to self-enrol on a module and into a given group — This is a tutorial about how to set up your module so student automatically add themselves into a group when they enroll themselves on the module
- How to add a forum — How to add a forum or discussion board to your module
- How to send a message to groups of students or participants — Once you have created Groups in your module you may need to send a message just to your group rather than all participants...here's how.
- How to create a metalink to enrol students from another module — This is a tutorial about how to set up your module so students who are enrolled on another module or modules are automatically enrolled also on your module
- Working with groups of students — This document will help you with managing groups of students in different ways depending on your need. There are a few tips and examples as well.
- How to enable group submissions in a Moodle assignment — Using Groups in Moodle assignments to enable one piece of work to be submitted by a whole group of students
- Magic with Moodle 12 - Using forums with groups
- How to export a list of students who are placed in a group — This page will show you how to export a list of students who have been assigned to a Moodle Group
- Managing tutorial registers online with Moodle — Through a combination of tools, you can manage seminar signups and attendance registers simply.
- An overview of how to use Groups and Groupings effectively — This help document goes through how to create groups and groupings and how they can be used to aid module management.
- How to release resources to students at different times or in different groups — Restrict Access settings allow you to release items to a group of students but not others, or to some students at different times, or to restrict access by grade or completion of a previous of activity.
- How to export a sign-up list from the Signup Sheet tool — How To export a sign-up list from the Signup Sheet tool